THE HICKMAN COURIER.

HICKMAN, KY.

FRIDAY, 11 FEB. 1870.

J. A. MOORE, the Indianapolis insurance agent who defrauded for $300,000, has just been arrested at Montreal, Canada. It is stated that the United States government has paid more money in the investigation of the case of Hogg than in the case of the thieves affecting the human race.

FRANK POPE, the United States attorney general, is now in Kentucky, in connection with the case of Hogg. It is stated that the United States government has paid more money in the investigation of the case of Hogg than in the case of the thieves affecting the human race.

THE SAMUEL LAMON is rather insignificant to be the subject of an international convention. The nine islands of the group contain but 125 square miles, and the population is not more than 10,000. Of course, when national honor is at stake, the same controversy is not considered.

The manner of the death of the heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne was a bit of a mystery. It is said that a person of lower station, even in Europe, would have been executed for such a crime.

The agricultural department fell on its knees the other day, and the United States government has paid more money in the investigation of the case of Hogg than in the case of the thieves affecting the human race.

The Republican majority in the United States Senate have voted four million dollars to be paid to the State of Louisiana in aid of the Louisiana sugar plant. It is said that the United States government has paid more money in the investigation of the case of Hogg than in the case of the thieves affecting the human race.

JACOB MONROE at Frankfort has decided to take the title of the State of Kentucky. It is said that the United States government has paid more money in the investigation of the case of Hogg than in the case of the thieves affecting the human race.

The tobacco growers of Kentucky and a number from Ohio formed a preliminary association at Lexington, Monday, resolved to reduce the crop of 1870 50 per cent below the average of 1869, and to increase the Louisville Leaf Tobacco Exchange in its action against the buyers and manufacturers, provided for a memorial to Congress to remove the tobacco tax and adjourned to meet again at Lexington, February 20, to hear reports from farmers concerning the crop reduction resolution.

The great strike of the street carmen in New York has resulted in a riot, and the police had to use force to quell it. The people, in a general rule, sympathize with strikers, believing that workers for daily wages should not be subjected to such movements unless there is cause. But when the strikers openly and by force violate the law, then public opinion, the strongest force in this country, changes and throws its influence to the support of law and order.

There was an unusual meeting of New York clergymen held in that city last week in connection with the plan for simultaneous religious services throughout the Union, on the morning of April 22, the hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of Washington. Among those present were Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish ministers and all agreeing with perfect unanimity in their action and their common address to the ministers and churches of the whole country.

The regular army consists of about 21,000 men and 3,000 officers. Germany has 2,000,000 men ready to take the field and these figures do not make good showing for the United States in view of the impending war cloud. They do not tell the whole story, however. The United States has a well trained force of militia that can be called into service at a moment's notice if necessary. The fact that this is a military country is no proof that other nations can with impunity depend upon our coat-tails. We have a militia force large enough to make matters doubly interesting for any country that attempts to take the bait.

The assassination of Col. John M. Clayton, at Plummerville, Ark., is the latest crime of the kind that has occurred for a generation. Clayton was a Republican politician and made the race for Congress against Ulysses S. Grant. He was elected by 550 majority. After the polls closed, Plummerville ball-box was broken by four masked men, supposed to have been Democrats. From the fact that the present governor, Clayton, was a Republican, it is not surprising that the masked men were Democrats.
